

ProcessMaker released in Danish with local service and support

Colosa's partner, Xcompetence, to provide localized support services and customization for ProcessMaker throughout Denmark

Brooklyn, NY and Ronne, Denmark – June 8, 2009 – Colosa's open source business process management (BPM) software, www.processmaker.com, is available in Danish with local support and services available from Xcompetence, a strategic Colosa partner and a ProcessMaker gold partner.

Xcompetence is an open source software consultancy and training company focused on project management of IT related tasks, headquartered in the eastern Danish town of Rønne. The company is dedicated to supporting and driving open source standards to help customers achieve business success, and has over 18 months' experience in working with Colosa and supporting ProcessMaker.

A web-based and open source business software tool, ProcessMaker enables private and public enterprises to automate workflow processes across various business systems resulting in a smarter, more efficient organization.

As a gold partner, Xcompetence will provide ProcessMaker service and support for customers across Northern Europe.

The partnership has resulted in the translation of ProcessMaker into Danish to meet increasing user demands for the software to be localized into their language. ProcessMaker has a strong international presence with a steady increase of downloads around the world supported by a growing network of 15 partners in 11 countries. Gold partners are entitled to reseller margins, access to region-specific sales leads, support from ProcessMaker engineers, as well as numerous marketing opportunities.

"Xcompetence is both a strategic partner for Colosa and a gold partner for ProcessMaker. The Nordic countries are great allies of open source software so it's a real asset to have Xcompetence part of the ProcessMaker open source project," said Brian Reale, CEO of Colosa. "We are in the planning stages of numerous initiatives with Xcompetence including a number of innovative joint training programs to meet the growing demand we see from organizations across Europe that are implementing ProcessMaker as their BPM solution of choice."

"At Xcompetence, we advocate open source software for our clients so it was a natural choice for us to partner with Colosa whose BPM product is a fantastic solution for workflow management," said Kathe Holmstrup, Managing Director of Xcompetence. "We have worked with ProcessMaker's developers to create the Danish translation of the software, which will be very highly appreciated by the market here. We look forward to sharing in ProcessMaker's ongoing development and bringing this solution to our clients struggling with workflow challenges."
